[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Winston-Salem, N. C., August 22.—A telegram to the Masonic Lodge at Bethania states that Lindsay G. Barlow was killed last Friday in Mexico, about 100 miles from El Paso, Tex., while riding on a construction train.

Mr. Barlow was engineer for a mining company. About a year ago he married Miss Ella Lehman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Lehman, of Bethania. The wedding took place in the West, but announcement was not made of the marriage until about four weeks ago, just before Mrs. Barlow left the home of her parents for El Paso to join her husband. Mr. Barlow had his headquarters at El Paso. Mrs. Barlow was there at the time her husband was killed. She wired her brother of the sad tragedy, saying she would send particulars by mail.

Mr. Barlow was placed on a siding and was completely in every detail for a practical teaching of road-building and up-keep also the effect of poor highways was fully demonstrated.

Reports on "Obvious Incompetency of the Chief Authorities."

LIKED CAMP AT CULPEPER
Governor Names Tax Delegates and Members of Peace Committee.

Making his official report to the Adjutant-General on the encampment of his regiment at Culpeper, Colonel Robert F. Leedy, of the Second Infantry, who has a habit of saying what he thinks, hands a few remarks to the Southern Railway officials. He says that the hardships and anxieties experienced by him in scheduling, "owing to the obvious incompetency of the chief authorities of the 'long haul' road (the Southern), were an abomination which he hopes to never again be afflicted with."

With the camp itself, Colonel Leedy was much pleased. He found there every comfort and convenience, both for men and animals, and it was left in good sanitary condition by Colonel Perry and the First Regiment, which preceded his command.

The routine work he regards as excellent, but thinks it was perhaps a little too strenuous for such hot weather.

Because of the inability of Captain Greene, the regimental chaplain, to be present at camp, Captain J. Cleveland Hall, of the First Infantry, was detailed to remain on duty. Colonel Leedy expresses his appreciation of the work done by Dr. Hall, which was so much applauded that the men marched to his quarters before leaving in the mud and rain to thank him. Finally, the gratitude of the regimental commander is extended to the people of Culpeper for their hospitality, and hope is expressed that the regiment will go there again.

cruling to the latter by reason of better highway conditions, bringing development and increased prosperity in its train. Mr. Boykin also touched upon the percentage of traffic over highways, the building and maintenance of the different forms of highways and the cost per mile.

Mr. Fairbanks illustrated with stereopticon views different methods of building, repair, drainage and the loss to the taxpayer, which may be attributed to the lack of system of this most important branch of internal improvement.

Charles P. Light, special representative of the American Association for Highway Improvement, asked for nominations for officers for the local association. W. H. Jones was elected president; Tom Crowder, vice-president; W. Lucas Penick, secretary; Dr. G. A. Stover, treasurer.

In the demonstration car were placed on view different models, rock crushers, steam rollers, and roads from the ordinary dirt highway to the highly-improved macadam.

In closing, Light emphasized the cardinal necessities of drainage and the divorcing of improved highway building from politics.

NEW STATES WILL BE DEMOCRATIC
Arizona and New Mexico Are Certain to Line Up With That Party.

HOLD TAFT RESPONSIBLE
People Condemn Him for His Arbitrary Attitude on Original Resolution.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, D. C., August 22.—It is the opinion of Chairman Flood, of the House Committee on Territories, that both Arizona and New Mexico will be solidly Democratic. The resolution, as signed by Taft yesterday, is identical in every particular with the Flood resolution which passed the House on May 23, and the Senate on August 8, and was vetoed by the President on August 15, except in accordance with the views of the President's veto message.

It requires the people of Arizona to eliminate the recall of the judiciary from their Constitution before that Territory can be admitted as a State.

The passage of this resolution is a triumph for Mr. Flood, as there was considerable opposition on the Democratic side of the House to yielding to the President in any particular in reference to it. The original Flood resolution was regarded as absolutely fair to both States. It proposed changes in both the New Mexican and Arizona Constitutions, but submitted these changes to the people of the respective Territories at the elections which are to be held for the election of county and State officers and members of Congress.

In other words, the people were allowed to vote as their consciences dictated upon these questions, without reference to its effect upon statehood.

Mr. Taft's veto required the people of Arizona to vote a particular way. They could get statehood if they voted for an amendment to their Constitution which met these views. If they did not, they were denied statehood.

Mr. Flood and his committee took the position that while the action of the President was arbitrary, the interests of the Territories demanded that, under existing conditions, they yield to the President and get the statehood resolution passed. This was done after a warm debate in the House yesterday, and to-day the President signed the resolution.

Sure for Democrats.
As indicative of the sentiment in Arizona upon this question, Speaker Clark received the following telegram yesterday:

"The Democratic party of Arizona is eternally grateful for the statesmanlike action of the Democrats of the House and Senate in passing the Flood resolution. The responsibility for nullifying it is now on the President alone. We now earnestly beg you if the bill cannot pass both houses over his veto to amend the Flood resolution in the single particular of making the elimination of the judiciary recall mandatory and pass again before the special session ends. The President's action, following the stand the Democrats took for Arizona, relieves the Democratic party of any responsibility for the coercion, and Arizona will go overwhelmingly Democratic. The people of Arizona and the Democratic party earnestly petition you thus to give us statehood."

"J. P. DILLON,
Chairman Territorial Democratic Central Committee.

"Attest:
"H. Robinson, Secretary."

Mr. Flood said: "A good many Arizona and New Mexican people have been here, and they assert that the fight made by the Democrats upon this statehood matter will insure both of these new States to the Democratic party. Arizona is certainly Democratic, and every indication now is that New Mexico also will go the same way. Indeed, it was thought the attitude of the Republicans in endeavoring to prevent statehood was due to the fact that they realized that both of these States would elect Democratic electors in 1912. P. H. McG."
